"Reddy" Foster, Norfolk's catcher, won the game for his team yesterday when, in the seventh inning, he caught one of Ecktsone's benders and sent it to right garden, to there remain until two men had placed they mongrams on the rubber that nestes over the spot called the home plate. With two men out, a runner on third and another at second, Happy Eckstone sent one over the plate that suited Reddy's taste. Be it mentioned parenthelically, however, that Reddy had syung at two of the swizzing spheres and falled to connect. In this connection, however, he connected—if the phrascology of the sentence be correct—and before the however, he connected—if the phraseology of the sentence be correct—and before the horseblde touched terra firma in right garden. Hopkins, who had been hugging third, and Selts, who was warming his feet at the fire on second station, had both crossed the plate. The two runs were the only ones that the Crew of the Mary Jane secured, and they were sufficient unto the day, for the Lawmakers never had a chance to introduce but one bill.

Foster Did It All.

Strangely enough, Foster—who, by the way, is a Fulton chap—allowed Richmond to make the sole tally. He dropped the ball after Handsome Pug 'Hicks had bumped into him, and Mr. Hicks, of Oregon Hill, mind you, placed his small understanding on the plate. This came in the second inning, when not a hit had been registered against the man whose ancestors are bananas and sold hot tomales. Bonno was in the box for the visitors and well did he pitch. Weatherley, the new third-basseman, for the Richmond and won the game. Beano was the next man, and he fanned. It might have been good headwork to have walked Foster, for Bonno had twice before falled to connect Bonno had twice before falled to connect with the sphere.

Richmond's one run came in the second, and if Foster had not dropped the ball there would have been a shutout.
"We are going to get even," said Mr.
Hannon, owner of the Norfolk team, as he left the field yesterday, smiling over his face.
The official score follows:
Richmond.

DOUBLE HEADER THIS AFTERNOON

Richmond and Norfolk to Clas at 2:30 and 4:30-Still to Pitch.

Two games will be played here to-day Cassidy and Still will likely work for the Lawmakers, and Stanley and Jordan will probably be the slabmen for the Crew of the Mary Jane. The first game will be called at 2:30 o'clock, and the second one will be at 4:30 o'clock, the second one will be at 4:30 o'clock, the usual time for the game.

Cassidy has been with the Roanoke aggregation and believes that he can easily defeat Norfolk. Still has shown what he can do to the visitors; for last week he pitched two games—nineteen innings—and allowed them only one run. Foster was responsible for that one tally, but then the extra inning should never have been played, and the Colonel should have had two games to his credit in one day.

day,
Many Richmond fans are hoping that the Colonel will be allowed to twirl both games to-day. Richmond has lost two games in this series to the Norfolkites, and Still is believed to be the man to bring them out of the wilderness:

Drew, who has pitched eight games for Drew, who has pitched eight games for Richmond and won five out of the eight, left yesterday afternoon for Petersburg in answer to a long distance telephone call from the manager of the Farmville baseball nine, asking him to come at once and pitch against the Petersburg team in a series of games to be pityed in the Cockade City. Employment is offered for two months, and there is a probability that Drew will land some good position for the winter and will be in the State when the season opens next year. Drew was released by the Richmond club, notwithstanding the fact that he had, won the majority of the games he has pitched.

CHICAGO, August 24.—Sixty policemen were overwhelmed to-day by a mad ruish of men and women who were determined to get the first money paid out of the vaults of the ruined Milwaukee Avenue State Bank. Receiver petzer had minde arrangements to pay twenty per cent. to 5,000 of the 25,000 depositors, and everybody was anxious to be among the 5,000. At daybreak the crowds commenced to gather around the bank, and by 8 o'clock the bank was surrounded by 5,000 people. Sixty policemen had been sent to the bank, but they were unable to handle the crowd, the greater part of which was unable to understand the English language. Forty more officers were finally sent to the bank and order was even then restored with difficulty.

At one time the orowd threatened to fairly storm the bank, as, waving their pass-books in the air, they rushed for the doors shouting in Bohamian. Polish Norwegian and Italian. The receiver was all day paying the 5,000, and will pay as many more to-morrow.

(Special by Southern Beill Telephone.) NORFOLK, August 24.—Indignation sealed and beaten, by the plump fiets of a small, middle-uged woman, and darked on the shinks whenever a short teminine kick could reach him, a large more than 200 pounds, clurnsly pranced to gate for the small oxford ties shoot at his parkets in quick, gittening pouts. Indignation seemed to radiate from the beank, and order was even with one of the heat waves on the broiling concrete. Her pass-books in the air, they rushed for the doors shouting in Bohamian. Polish Norwegian and Italian. The receiver was all day paying the 5,000, and will pay as many more to-morrow.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEW YORK, August 24.—Miss Elizabeth NEW YORK, August 21.—Miss Flizabath Flynn, sixteen years old and pretty, a daughter of Thomas Flynn, a civil engineer, of No. 726 East One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Street, who was arrested Wednesday night at Broadway and Thirty-eighth Street for talking socialism without a permit to several thousand persons, was arraigned before Magistrats Walsh yesterday in Jefferson Market Court.

walsh yesterday in Jefferson Market Walsh yesterday in Jefferson Market Court.

To the question of how a girl so young in years had come to take up the study of socialism, she replied that in the main it was because her father had been cheated out of two years' wages by his employers, and that as a result, his family had suffered and often been lefting want. She, herself, she said, had been it last winter, and while confined to hea heme and unable to go to school, find taken up the study of socialism.

She was asked if her sufferings had not led her line the paths of socialism.

"Those that suffer materings had not led her line the paths of socialism.
